

Career Gap Networking Group

Being unemployed and/or underemployed is a frustrating stage in life. Join us for a facilitated discussion group for those in the middle of a career gap, between jobs, or searching for the right fit in a tough economy. You'll meet others living in the same situation who share hints, tips and most importantly, support. We also give an overview of ways to stay healthy and up-to-date on skill sets during the gap. We encourage suggestions for topic ideas, social media tips, and available resources and tools that you are using or have used that will help others.
