

Dublin Counseling Center Adds Gambling Addictions Expert to Staff

Dublin Counseling Center is pleased to announce that Phillip Yassenoff, LPCC-S, has joined their staff. Yassenoff has over 20 years experience providing behavioral health care therapy. Yassenoff is a specialist in the treatment of Problem Gambling and brings extensive gambling treatment experience to Dublin. Problem gambling often goes unrecognized and is difficult for many people to understand.

It has been estimated that roughly 2% (one in fifty people) of the population suffers from problem gambling. Yet few seek counseling for this treatable issue until they are in dire straits.

Outpatient counseling can help provide the tools to reduce the harm that problem gambling can cause and begin the recovery process. You may contact the Dublin Counseling Center for more information at 889-5722.
